

Dr. Caroline Hack

 Institut für Geschichte und Ethik
der Medizin

Professur für Ethik in der Medizin

 09131/85-26436

Curriculum vitae

Since 11/2018: Cooperation at the Ethics Commission at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany

Since 04/2017: Lecturer at the Academy of Health- and Care Professions, Erlangen

Since 07/2015: Research fellow at the administrative office of the Clinical Ethics Committee at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany

Since 07/2015: Research fellow at the Institute for History of Medicine and Medical Ethics at the University hospital Erlangen

04/2015: Doctorate of philosophy (Dr. phil, magna cum laude) at the Institute of Applied Ethics and Scientific Communication at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany.

2012 – 2014: Ph.D. programme in philosophy at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany

2013 – 2014: Fellowship holder at the Institute for Gender and Diversity at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany

2012 – 2013: Research assistant at the Institute of Applied Ethics and Scientific Communication at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany

2009 – 2011: Research assistant at the Institute for History of Medicine and Medical Ethics at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany

07/2011: Master of Philosophy (Mag. Art., M.A.), University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany

2007 – 2011: Master programme in Philosophy (main topics: Practical Philosophy, Applied Ethics, Political Philosophy, Philosophy of language) and Iberian studies (main topics: Literature, Culture and Politics in Latin America)